

Wind Waves 'n' Wakes

by Joe Steele, @ 2014

Sailing in the COR?

The City of Ramsey together with the Edina Model Yacht Club and the Twin Cities Model Boat Club are collaborating to bring you a remote control boat show, "Wind, Waves 'n' Wakes". The event will be held at 'The Draw' the evening of Thursday, June 30 starting around 4:00 pm and continuing until dusk. On display and running on the pond will be wind powered boats, some of which are scaled replicas of real boats, as well as gas and electric powered boats that can do sixty miles per hour plus. (Plus, there is the very real possibility there'll be a submarine spotted too.) Come out and see for yourself how much fun model boating can be! While you are there, ask one of the club members if you can drive one of the (slower) boats – you're invited to as part of this family friendly outing. For information on starting your own model boat club, or joining theirs, please contact Joe Steele at 612-940-3068 or minnjoe@email.com. For more info on this event or programming opportunities in The Draw, see the city's web site or contact Mark Riverblood at mriverrblood@ci.ramsey.mn.us. This is a rain or shine event – see you Starboard at The Draw!