White Bear Lake Classic & Vintage Boat Show

By Todd Moen

On Saturday, June 27th the White Bear Lake Classic & Vintage Boat Show was held. We were invited to display our boats once again. Dick Walker, John Bertelsen, Kevin Waldo, Julia Moen and myself were on hand to answer any questions about model boating. It was a great day with slightly warm weather and a great crowd that stopped by to see us. Some confusion as to where to set up our display occurred, but that is what makes each event memorable!

COMMODORE'S CORNER

By John Bertelsen

At the end of last year we were starting the battle against the floating vegetation in the pond. This spring the water level in the ponds was dropped and the club helped remove the "beached" vegetation from the exposed outer ledge of the bottom of the north pond. Right now it appears we were waging a losing battle. The vegetation is here with a vengeance. From club members with more history at the ponds than I have (that would be most of you) I have heard that the new organic weed control is not effective and that the additive that darkens the water so the sunlight cannot penetrate as far down has not been applied. Per a park employee I was told that the real problem is that the City has not been able to get the company that applies the weed control to show up!

Well, what can a person say, it is always something. We still have the finest venue for our hobby in the country, and we have a park staff that really does care about water quality. It will get better but for now we have to put in a bit more effort - and thanks to those who have been doing just that! In the end it gives us something to reflect back on when conditions are back to near perfect sailing and boating. What a great place to come with or without a boat. What great people to just visit with and relax from all the pressures in the rest of life. What a great club!
